The natural landscapes of Tuten and Riverside Parks provide opportunities to educate students and visitors about their natural habitats, ecosystems and wildlife. Sasol sponsored and assisted with the development of an educational program at the park that centered around hands-on lessons.

Utilizing the pavilions and classrooms at the parks, staff and volunteers offer bird watching, insect and plant identification and other programs for visitors of all ages through the Nature in Focus Program. Nature in Focus is expanding and will incorporate additional programming and educational opportunities in the future.
